THF LIFENotes
Week of May 16

After a season of not being able to meet together as a church body/family, what are some things you appreciated about meeting together again?

What is the value of worshiping together as a church body?

What expressions of praise did you see from your parents and your early church life? How has that shaped your view of what is good and acceptable during worship? How are you shaping your kids and grandkids and those around you?

Jim reminded us that we are an "embodied soul" and that the expressions of praise are the equivalent of our soul moving toward God. How does that idea impact you?

How does singing help us remember and repent?

What is the importance of integrating music that focuses on the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus during every time of worship? Why does our band attempt to do this early in each set rather than later in the set?

What are some ways that you may feel convicted about your mindset in regards to how you approach worshiping as a member of the body of Christ?
